

This aerial photograph shows a roundabout in Lesce. The roundabout is a single-lane circular intersection with a central grassy area. Four yellow hatched triangular areas are marked at the entry points of the roundabout, indicating proposed construction or maintenance zones. The word 'Lesce' is written in blue text near the center of the roundabout. To the right of the roundabout, a two-lane road runs horizontally. Several numbered points are marked on the image: '9' is on a building to the right of the roundabout; '11' is on a building below the roundabout; and '11A' is on a building at the bottom of the image. The surrounding area includes green fields, trees, and some buildings.
